The Ties That Bind

"Blest be the ties that bind our hearts in Christian love. The unity of heart and mind is like to that above. Before our Father's throne, we pour our ardent prayers. Our fears, our hopes, our aims are one, our comfort and our cares. We share our mutual woes, our mutual burdens bear, and often for each other flows, the sympathizing tear. From sorrow, toil, and pain, and sin we shall be free, and perfect love and friendship reign through all eternity."

-John Fawcett

sisterhood...

Student Life

Sisterhood united us as the sophomores spent their last year with their big sister class and the juniors welcomed their new little sisters, the freshman class. Tradition united us as the Meredith Alumnae came back for the 50th anniversary of Cornhuskin' "Under the Harvest Moon." Service united us as we grew together, serving our community through campus organizations. Sisterhood. Tradition. Service. These were the Ties that Bind.

Go For the Gold... at orientation

Orientation was fun, exciting, and hectic. I met a lot of new friends.
-Aimee Foskie

As Thursday, August 17 approached, the largest class of freshmen at Meredith College began to pack and feel the excitement of the beginning of a new stage in their lives. At the same time that suitcases were being filled and trunks were being packed, student advisors and resident assistants were being trained to assist freshmen on that big day.

As orientation began, rooms were packed full of stuff and arranged in new fashions. R.A.'s assisted with moving in and housing dilemmas, Big Sis' welcomed the new "Angels," and student advisors dropped in to let everyone know what was happening during the day.

After getting situated and moved in, activities began that would take up the next few days. From meeting with student and teacher advisors to plan schedules, to diversity and women issues workshops, to the Honor Code Ceremony, to lunch with President Weems, the days and nights were packed full of fun and excitement.

But of course, orientation would not be complete without registration. Myers Foscue said, "Orientation was great, having fun and meeting people, until registration. Classes were closed, and I was lost." It was a day that no one could forget where adjustments had to be made and for the first time college was a reality.

MEA Luau A Spirited Occasion

On October 4, 1995, the Meredith Entertainment Association threw their annual Luau hoping for a bright and beautiful sunny day. Unfortunately, Mother Nature did not provide them with the warm, clear day that everyone had hoped for; instead, she provided a dark and rainy one. Not to be discouraged, the ever-persistent MEA Crew took their festive Luau indoors. With Belk Dining hall decorated to the hilt for the eventful occasion, members of the Luau team welcomed their fellow Meredith Angels and the festivities began with a bang. Everyone was amazed to see how the dining hall had been transformed into an island paradise with balloons, streamers, leis on the tables, and even a huge tower of tropical fruit. Even the MEA Crew showed their spirit by wearing multicolored grass skirts. A lively band called The Usuals performed live for the crowd of students who were waiting patiently in line to experience the Island fare of Polynesian chicken. The Usuals, an area band, played many crowd favorites including California Dreamin'. Even with the thirty minute halt in activities due to a campus wide power outage, the indoor Luau was a big hit. "The MEA Luau was interesting and fun. It would have been better if people had participated more. I enjoyed the limbo contest though," said Freshman Ashley Farmer. People literally bent over backwards in an effort to win the limbo contest. From hula hoop contests and limbo contests to impetuous people dancing, fun was truly had by all.

Fall Fest Fun and Games

MEA sponsored Fall Fest '95 on a sunny day in September. The day included food, fun, and fellowship. Among the activities were volleyball, face painting, moon walking, karaoke, the human fly trap, and animal balloon shaping. All those who attended Fall Fest enjoyed various food items including cotton candy, pizza, hot dogs, hamburgers, and sodas.

While snacking on food and greeting friends, students listened to the sounds of the two upcoming bands, Far Too Jones and Fendel. They played many crowd favorites and kept the festive atmosphere going. Many of the students had a great time dancing to the music and doing activities together. Spectators who were standing and watching the activities laughed at those hitting the fly trap and listened to the karaokers singing. Junior Worthy Baker said "I enjoyed the excitement of jumping into the human fly trap. It was awesome. I also enjoyed listening to the bands; they played some great music. Everything was wonderful!"

The sunshine and wonderful day lent itself nicely to the outdoor activities that took place during Fall Fest. MEA's hard work and dedication paid off, because they created a fun and exciting afternoon that was enjoyed by all.

"Everything was wonderful!"

Cornhuskin'

50 years of tradition

Despite rain and elements creating a "3 Ring Circus" the wish of "If They Could See Us Now" did bring a number of alumnae back onto the Meredith campus on this 50th anniversary of Cornhuskin' for "Abracadabra. Another Magical Experience." Though first time onlookers may have at first believed "It's a Jungle in Here," no doubt they soon came to love the tradition we all cherish.

White Iris Ball Mardi Gras

On November 10, 1995, Meredith students threw off the sweat pants, found their make-up, dressed in semi-formal outfits, grabbed a date, and went downtown for Mardi Gras. As they entered the Raleigh Civic Center, the Tony Elliot Band provided the sounds of Hootie and the Blowfish, the Red Hot Chili Peppers, and other popular groups. A mural of downtown New Orleans cascaded the back wall to create an authentic Mardi Gras atmosphere. Couples were each given a Mardi Gras mask to wear throughout the evening. These masks, though lovely, made it difficult to spot friends in the crowd, as if it wasn't already hard enough to recognize friends all dressed up.

However, once friends were located, they spent hours dancing to the lively tunes. Occasionally, they would take a break to stop at the refreshment table, which was beautifully decorated and fully stocked with edible goodies.

When midnight passed and one o'clock approached, the crowd slowly dwindled as party-goers went off back to the dorm, to restaurants, or to other parties.

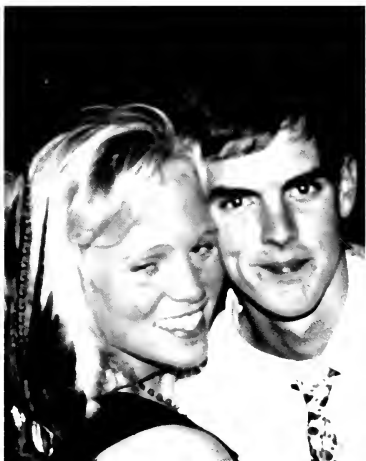

Overall, the evening was a complete success as Meredith gals spent a romantic Mardi Gras night in New Orleans.

Administration

As students, we see a campus with an enchanting beauty and a strong tradition. A place with such a great sense of community that some refer to it as a family.

We thank our administration for making us a family. An administration who comes together in good and bad times; an administration who respects and accepts differences in others; an administration who stays close through time and distance.

No one can say what it is that makes this community so close. Many attribute it to a bonding of love. Others say that it is the administration itself.

Academics

Aside from all of the distractions of college life, the main reason for choosing to attend college is to better oneself and learn skills needed for a specific area of concentration. Students do not choose Meredith because they want to socialize. Rather, they choose it because Meredith is one of the top colleges in the country. With all of the different programs offered, there is something for almost every interest. Here at Meredith College, students take their studies seriously. There is plenty of time for fun, but first priority is success.

People

Freshmen

The freshman class started the year with orientation and the beginning of lifetime friendships. It was a new world with many changes and adjustments from high school life. We were now on our own with new responsibilities and challenges.

From our first fraternity party to our first Comhuskin' experience, the class of 1999 has adjusted quite well. We give a special thanks to our wonderful Big Sisters who made our first year at Meredith a blast. We had fun cheering with our Big Sisters on that windy and cold November night.

After many meetings with our student and academic advisors, we were ready to start four years of academic challenges and the pressures of school. The nervousness for our first test and the many English papers assigned welcomed us with open arms as we rose to the challenge. We went to many mandatory seminars which taught us many lessons to help us begin our new lives.

And those wonderful fire drills at two a.m in the rain were so much fun...All of a sudden we had to learn the value of a dollar... considering we were always broke. We enjoyed our first Meredith formal, the White Iris Ball, and our trip to Wonderland. It is hard to believe that all of this fun only lasted one year.

It is sad that our first year is now coming to a close, but we will always remember the friendships, the challenges, and the new world that opened our eyes.

Sophomores

The best definition of the Sophomore Class would be the word unity. Throughout the tough times of being a freshman, this class grew to love one another and stand up for one another when things got rough.

This year, the Sophomore Class participated in many of Meredith's finest traditions. In the fall, they danced the night away with their dads, and in the spring, they drank tea and conversed with their moms. They supported their Big Sisters in the final Cornhuskin/and Stunt, and they saluted them farewell at Class Day.

The year brought many new challenges along with the traditions, though. Majors were declared, bonding between old and new friends was at a maximum, and all were stressed beyond belief.

This year, we better understood Cornhuskin' and could truly appreciate the emotion and spirit it brought out in all of us. We also learned what it was like to see our professors "in costume" for our generation's production of Alice in Wonderland. Stunt brought us together as the year ended and we began to realize that soon our Big Sisters would be leaving us.

Class Day marked an end to one era in our days here at Meredith, but it marked the beginning of something new and exciting--Little Sisters.

Our year was filled with love, hope, and excitement. We truly "cannot be separated in interests or divided in purpose. We stand together until the end." (Woodrow Wilson)

Juniors

The junior class returned to Meredith this year with high expectations and new responsibilities. Suddenly class members were transformed into guardian angels for an entire freshman lil' sis' class. The tie between the junior and freshman class is a bond that will only strengthen in the years to come.

Juniors' hopes and dreams were realized at Cornhuskin '95 when the class united as one 3-Ring Circus and at last took their spot on center stage. The junior class reminisced about their past two years here at 'ole MC, from the balloon ring of their freshman year, to the daisy ring of their sophomore class day, and at long last their class ring, all while looking towards their final ring here at Meredith with eagerness.

The class had long anticipated acquiring their Meredith class rings and Thursday, November 16, 1995 proved to be a magical night none will ever forget. At last juniors felt they had gained the ultimate Meredith symbol, one which unites all Meredith angels as one.

For each and every junior this third year was full of opportunities, surprises, and excitement. Juniors have grown, both as a class and as individuals.

The junior year of each Meredith student's time spent here brings a genuine appreciation for the traditions and customs so carefully passed on to each new generation. Juniors are no exception to the rule; they truly do have a deep love for the ties that bind.

Seniors

Through the years the Class of 1996 has experienced many changes, but one thing has stayed the same...their common bonds. The Class of 1996 first arrived here at Meredith on a rainy day in August, but they did not let the rain damper their spirit. They soon found many common interests and friendships.

As Sophomores, these angels danced with dad, had tea with mom, and said good-bye to their big sisters. They began declaring their majors and soon found themselves neck deep in work. Class Day rolled around and the Class of 1996 realized that their day as big sisters was just around the corner.

Junior year brought on many new challenges. Excitement was at an all-time high with class ring orders and little sisters to guide. The Class of 1996 began to realize how special their relationships were and how little time they actually had left. The Crook Hunt helped this class seal their bond for their senior year.

Senior year brought many ups and downs. The Class of 1996 had a tough start with a loss at Combuskin', but they did not let that stand in their way of making their senior year a special one. Cap and gown orders, announcement orders, formal invitations, and Class Day rounded out the year.

Through all of the happiness and sorrow, the Class of 1996 truly epitomises a class with "The Ties that Bind".

The yearbook represents a year's worth of activities and events. And through time, we come to realize that our mistakes, mishaps and near misses only lead us to something more, to a higher level in which we finally understand...

what it is all about. There is such a thing as survival. Our experiences at Meredith have helped us to pull through it all.
